

Instructional Coaching

August 30 and 31, 2016

8:30 – 3:30 CDT

Workshop #009-17

GRREC Office & Training Center • 230 Technology Way • Bowling Green, KY 42101

GRREC is pleased to present a 2-day workshop on Instructional Coaching with Dr. Peter DeWitt. Effective coaches need to understand how to relate to people and how to guide teachers to make significant improvements in the learning that occurs in their classes. This workshop introduces the partnership principles that underlie the instructional coaching model and the coaching that cycle coaches can use to set student-focused goals, explain teaching practices, and support teachers until they and their students reach those goals.

Dr. Peter DeWitt is a dynamic speaker who blends research, humor, expertise and his personal experiences in education to make his professional development sessions/workshops informative and engaging.

His facilitation of adult learning benefits from his many years of quality experience in the field. Many who have attended his workshops speak to the relevance, practicality, and engagement of his work.

Peter is a blogger at Education Week's Finding Common Ground, a smart and thoughtful school leader who participates in and promotes social media, and an advocate for social and emotional learning in the schools.
